

HOW TO JOIN MARINE RESCUE LAKE MACQUARIE

Marine Rescue Lake Macquarie is your local volunteer marine safety organisation. In addition to our primary role of safety on the water, both on the lake and out at sea, Marine Rescue Lake Macquarie provides education including boat licence courses and Marine Radio (LROCP) courses.

If you are interested in joining our organisation, initial enquiries may be made on (02) 4971 3498, by leaving a completed Expression of Interest form at the Swansea or Pelican bases or by e-mail to the Membership Officer at membership.lakemacquarie@marinerescuensw.com.au

We have three intakes per year, February, June and October, at which time you will be invited to an information session to brief you on our organisation and our expectations for membership. You will be required to undergo radio operator training and assist in fundraising or fundraising only to be accepted for probationary membership. Crew training for our rescue vessels is available following achieving a radio operator rating.

Upon successful completion of your Police security check you will be accepted as a probationary member for a minimum of six months.

During this probationary period you will be required to prove your suitability by engaging in the following activities which you will be required to enter into your log book and have signed by the member supervising your activity.

- Practical safety induction
- Induction certification
- Long Range Operators Certificate of Proficiency – in conjunction with AMC (Australian Maritime College)
- Participation in radio and fundraising activities
- Attend monthly unit meetings

On successful completion of your probationary period and with the approval of the Executive Officers you will be accepted into Marine Rescue Lake Macquarie as an ordinary member. Uniforms will not be issued until this time.
